Make Every Minute Count with OLIVENOL Performance & Energy™
CreAgri, Inc's Product Provides Extra Energy to Glide Through the busy Holidays

(Hayward, CA) As fall and winter approach people begin to think about back to school activities and to begin planning upcoming family holiday gatherings. The hectic schedules needed during the changing seasons take a lot out of everyone, and deplete so much energy. It is at times like this that it's good to have Olivenol Performance & Energy™ on hand to provide that extra energy boost you need to pick-up the kids on time, prepare a holiday party for fifty, travel cross country to grandma's in record time, or slip all the gifts under the tree before anyone wakes up. OLIVENOL Performance & Energy™ provides all the energy you need to get it all done with ease.

The original OLIVENO Performance & Energy™ has been growing in popularity since its debut. It is the first dietary supplement to provide the antioxidant benefits of olives in an easy-to-take tablet. Olivenol is made solely from the aqueous fraction of fresh 100% organically grown olives. Now combined with L-Carnitine, known to participate in matabolizing fatty acids into energy, Olivenol Performance and Energy™ formula helps promote peak physical performance, making it a welcome addition to the health regimen of busy people who are on the go.

OLIVENOL Performance & Energy™ is the first and only dietary supplement to contain potent antioxidant polyphenols extracted from the pulp of organically grown olives. These polyphenols are believed to fight the damaging effects of free radicals, which are related to sun damage and other forms of environmental stress. Furthermore, these polyphenols have long been associated with maintaining stamina, and building health from the inside out.

Understandably, the health benefits offered by this supplement extend far beyond visible vim and vigor. Researchers worldwide find that diets rich in olive polyphenols found in OLIVENOL Performance & Energy™ are associated with promoting peak physical performance. OLIVENOL Performance & Energy™ with HIDROX™ and L'Carnitine can be purchased at www.creagri.com or by calling (510) 732 – 6478.

CreAgi Inc. is dedicated to promoting health and wellness through the development of antioxidant polyphenols and related innovative products for functional food, health and dietary supplements. It is the first company in the world to use an environmentally friendly process to redefine practice in the olive industry resulting in products with tremendous health benefits.
